What Residents are Saying

MI.

"David and Alejandro were so fast at attending to our work orders. We submitted a request for a few things to be done this morning and by 4 o'clock there was a knock at our door and in 20 minutes, everything was all taken care of. We truly appreciate them!"

Festival Fun In PDX

September Energy in PDX

Summer is winding down, but Portland's event calendar is seriously stacked this September. If you're looking to get out, stay active, and soak up the best of the city's culture, here are two major events to put on your radar:

PICA's TBA:26 (Time-Based Art Festival) | Sept 9-13: The Portland Institute for Contemporary Art takes over venues, warehouses, and performance spaces citywide for five days of innovative art. Expect everything from contemporary performance and experimental music to interactive pop-ups—a great excuse for an evening out exploring new corners of the city.

Rose City Comic Con | Sept 11-13: The Oregon Convention Center hosts three full days of pop culture, creative panels, artist alleys, and gaming zones. It's a fun, high-energy weekend to walk the floor, check out incredible local makers, and catch up with friends.

Grab some comfortable shoes, gather a group, and take full advantage of the city while the weather is still prime!

Pet of the Month

Margot

Pet of the Month: Meet Margot!

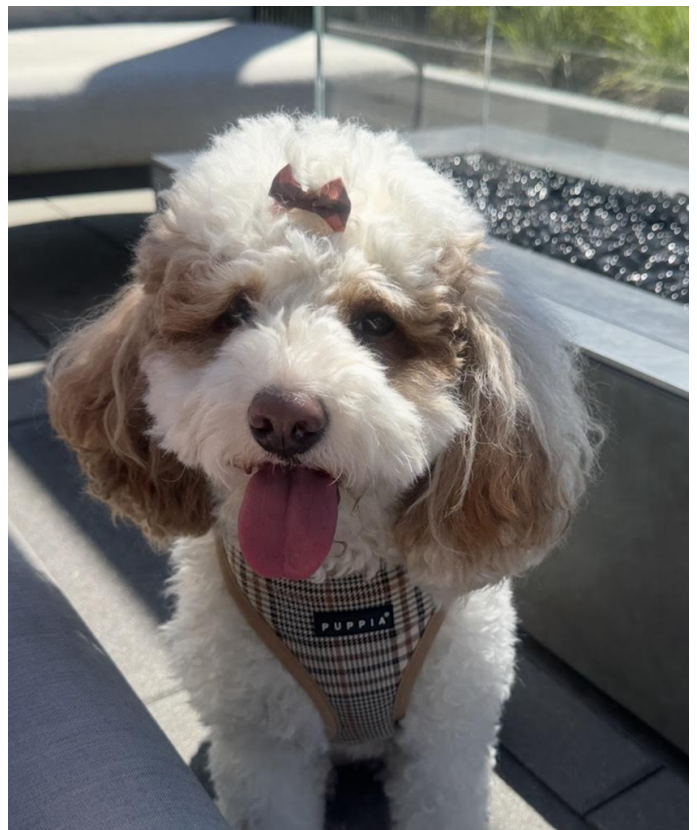

Give a big round of applause to our fabulous September Pet of the Month, Margot! Looking iconic with her little hair bow, this sweet pup knows how to live her best life here at The Gossamer.

When she's not out for scenic evening strolls through the Pearl District or tagging along for patio dinners with her family, you can catch her showing off her lightning speed during 3rd-floor hallway zoomies (seriously, she's fast!). On cozy nights in, Margot loves snacking on popcorn and binge-watching Below Deck on Bravo—a true reality TV queen. Most of all, she adores all the amazing friends she's made around the community.

Be sure to give Margot a wave and a sweet hello next time you spot her living it up!
